

PROmoting Sustainable Inner Urban DEvelopment

A contribution to sustainable urban development by focussing private investment on the rehabilitation of brownfield areas.

The transnational project team of PROSIDE is going to present the final results of a 3 years project focusing on:

1. Communication and Stakeholder management
2. Innovation in the Urban Planning Process
3. Integrated Approaches for Environmental Planning in a series of 3 thematic regional events and a central final conference in Budapest.

PROSIDE FINAL CONFERENCE Budapest, 21st April 2006, Event hall

PROmoting Sustainable Inner urban Development
- Innovation, Best Practise and Dissemination in the CADSES Region -

PROSIDE thematic regional events:

- PROmoting Sustainable Inner urban Development
The planning process in highly contaminated areas under complex conditions – Bovisa Gasometri
Milan, 20th/21st March 2006
- PROmoting Sustainable Inner urban Development
Brownfield Areas: Sustainable Projects – Investment Opportunities
Vienna, 28th April, 2006
- PROmoting Sustainable Inner urban Development
Planning and communication – demonstrating best practise in Bad Cannstatt, Veielbrunnen Area
Stuttgart, 8th/9th May 2006

For further information and registration please respond to iwona@sv-ertel.de

A project of the EU Community Initiative INTERREG III B
CADSES Neighbourhood Programme.
Project part-financed by the European Union

